MUNFORD HIGH SCHOOL
MUNFORD, TENNESSEE
1950

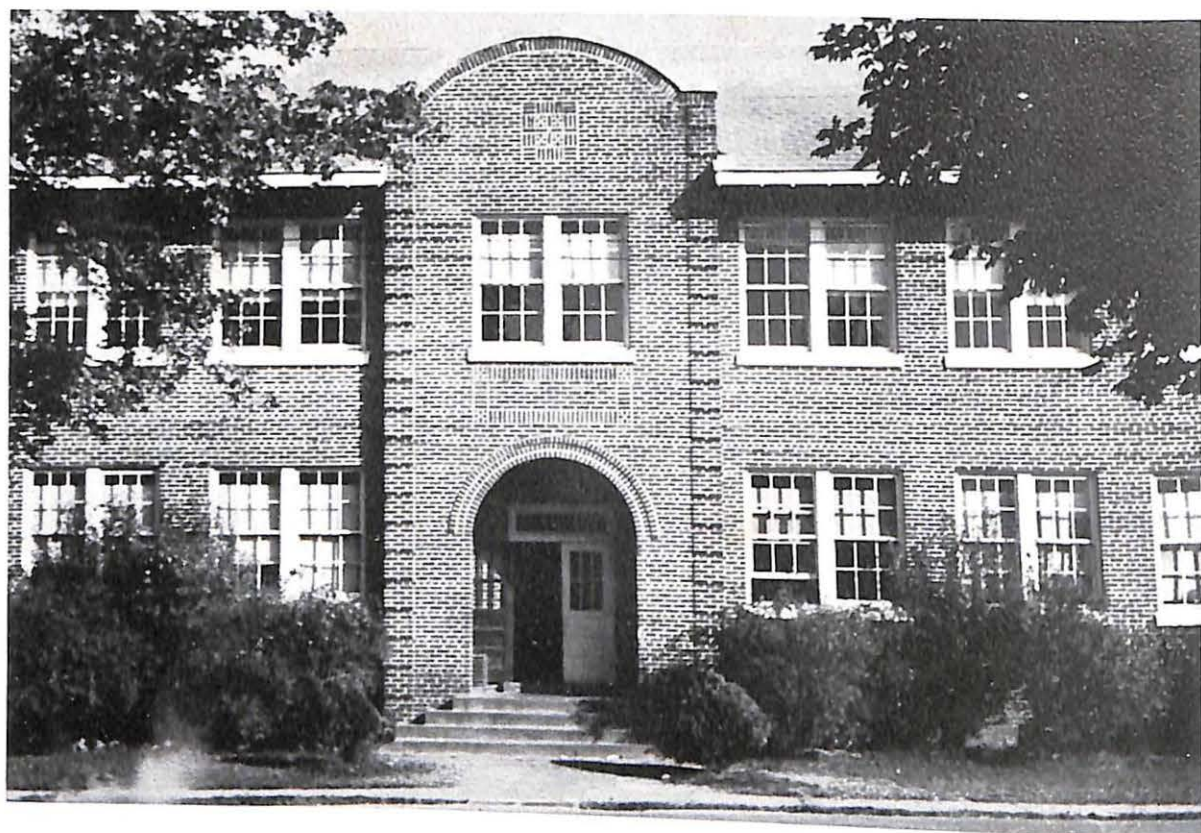

In appreciation of his loyalty, faithfulness, and never-ending desire to lend a helping hand; we dedicate this annual of 1950 to our ever-growing faculty member and friend — Mr. E. C. Pritchett.

ALMA MATER

Our Munford High School's praises sing,
 Munford High, Our Munford High!
 Her loving children tribute bring,
 Munford High, Our Munford High!
 Of Munford High with record grand,
 Her name beloved in all our land;
 Of Her we sing, for her we stand,
 Munford High, Our Munford High!

Brave men and true have fought for thee,
 Munford High, Our Munford High!
 For Country, God, and Liberty,
 Munford High, Our Munford High!
 Far shines thy light o'er land and sea,
 The light that comes from Calvary,
 And guides thy host to victory;
 Munford High, Our Munford High!

In calm and storm the same for aye,
 Munford High, Our Munford High!
 We follow where she leads the way,
 Munford High, Our Munford High!
 We bless the bonds that bind us near,
 We praise her name who brought us here;
 It is our Alma Mater dear,
 Munford High, Our Munford High!

Class Will

We, the Senior Class of 1950 of Munford High School, having been proclaimed by everyone as of insane minds and unsound bodies, do hereby make this our last will and testament. In order that the faculty and students of the aforementioned Munford High School shall not be too disappointed at our leaving, we do hereby will and bequeath this our most priceless possessions to said benefactors.

Article I
To Mr. Willis, we leave the hope that he may remain at dear ole' Munford High for another twenty years.

Article II
To Mr. Pritchett, we do hereby will and bequeath the hope that his famed De Kalb corn grows and grows and grows.....

Article III
To our sponsors Miss Berry and Miss Hart, we leave the hope that they will not be elected Senior sponsors next year and have to fool with this*?!. annual.

Article IV
To the remaining members of the faculty we leave them their peace of mind and broken health after having taught us four years.

Article V
We the Seniors of 1950, will and bequeath the following collection of junk to the underclassmen.

I, Mary Faye Pollard, do hereby will and bequeath my quiet angelic manners to Imogene Hoy. This excludes flirting, Imogene.

I, Shirley Beaver will my long dark hair to Atrell Boswell. Now you won't be so spectacular, Atrell.

I, Jimmy Wiley, do hereby leave my back seat in the study hall to the Walker boys. Don't let Charles beat you out of it, Doug.

I, Sarah Ashworth, do hereby will and bequeath my quiet demure manners to Mary Gross. You'll have to stop your flirting now, Mary!

I, Edna Earle McCollum, will my winsome ways and straight "A's" to Billie Joyce Maughan. You have the ways, Billie Joyce, how about the "A's."

I, Ed Maughan, leave my full-backing duties to Carroll Fite. See you at your funeral, Carroll!

I, Becky Glover, do hereby will my ceaseless flow of conversation to my sister Pat. Come on Pat, keep up the family tradition.

I, Betty Sue Gross, leave to Mary Forbess my job of checking the roll. You'll like that Mary, I check the boys side.

I, Maurice Turnage, do hereby will and bequeath my tall, dark, and handsome ways to Calvin Fletcher. Go get 'em, "Dynamite."

I, Margie Dixon, will my ability to make "A's" to Charles Walker. You won't have to worry about playing football now, Charles.

I, Juanita Simmons, leave my peaceful serenity to Mrs. Darrell Procter. Now you can really settle down, Jane.

I, J. T. Forbess do hereby leave my lazy gait to Robert McPeat. Take your time McPeat, take ya' time.

I, Faye Wilson, do hereby will and bequeath my place as editor of this annual to any smart junior who wants a headache. It'll run you crazy; crazy I tell you!

I, Jasper Sage, leave my job as cheerleader to Glenn Glidewell. Now you can yell all you want, Glenn.

I, Eleisa Woodbury, will my giggle to Vivian Owens, come on Vivian, now lets have a grin.

I, Betty Jean Coleman, do hereby will my cute freckles to my dear ole' cousin, Almeta Gross. Thank me, Almeta.

I, Austin Strickland, will my place as Mr. Pritchett's right-hand man to Fredrick Smith. This means a field trip every day, Fritze.

I, Betty Wooten, will my ability to spell to Robert Delashmit. Now you can make A's, Robert.

We, Mary and Martha Cousar, do hereby will our curly red hair to Mary Jane Sartain. Now you won't have the job of rolling your hair, Mary Jane.

I, Billie McCullough, do hereby leave my jalopy to Norris Adkins. Don't kill yourself, "Reno."

I, Alice Morgan, do hereby will and bequeath my gracious figure to Billie Jean Campbell. Now you'll be able to walk down the study hall aisles, Billie Jean.

I, Lloyd Gray, do hereby will and bequeath my nickname of "Birdie" to Billie Browder. Live up to it, Bill.

I, Cleo Smith, do hereby will my "flying" walk to Nell Montgomery. Come on Nell, step it up!

I, Wallace Joyner, leave the hope that all the boys left in Munford High will be as quiet as I've been these four long years.

I, Betty Jo Bomar, do hereby will my rosy cheeks to Katherine Valentine. You won't have to wear make-up any longer, Katherine.

I, Sonny Billings, leave Gurnell to Munford High for another year. Take good care of her, I did! !

I, Mary Frances Morgan, do hereby leave school as quickly as possible so that I can go to Brighton to get my man.

I, June Moore, do hereby will and bequeath my seat on the front row in Mr. Faulkner's band to anyone who cares for it. Don't rush, girls!

I, Donald Dyer, will my foghorn voice to Miss Clifton. Now you can out-talk Mr. Willis!

I, Joyce Fletcher, do hereby will and bequeath my weight to Marlene Talley. Grow up, Marlene.

I, Joe Hanks, do hereby will and bequeath my love for the women to Cled Yochum. C'mon Cled, get hep!

I, Louise Pouncey, will my quiet ways to Miss Annie Almeda Ernestine Berry. Goodness knows, she needs 'em!

I, Bobby Bomar, do hereby leave, just as fast as I can.

I, Joy Rowland, do hereby leave all my charm and womanly wiles to "Little" Joyce Fletcher. Use 'em wisely.

I, Georgia Sartain, do hereby will and bequeath the honor (?) of keeping Mr. Willis' office to my sister Mary Jane. Don't let him lose any more hair, Mary Jane.

I, Charles Carter, will my long hair to Jimmy Cooper. Now you'll really be handsome, Jim.

Class Prophecy

It is the year 1960. Ten long years have passed and the Munford High Seniors are preparing to embark on the annual Senior Trip. Going along as chaperone is Miss June Moore, commercial teacher at the High School, who is determined to find what has become of her classmates of 1950.

The day of departure finally came and as the bus drove up, who should be the driver but J. T. Forbess, the owner of the prosperous bus line. He at once began directing the loading of baggage, but suddenly a clamor arose! Little Thurman Billings Jr. had fallen from the bus and had broken a leg. Thurman Jr. is one of Sonny's seven boys.

Mr. Willis immediately called the Turnage Ambulance Service, run by Maurice and his brother, Winston. He was taken quickly to the hospital where Eleisa Woodbury was engaged as his nurse. Luckily this was the only casualty and the group left with destination unknown. Passing through Millington, they saw Betty Wooten, now Betty Thomas, hanging out a washing.

Continuing southward, they stopped the first night at New Orleans and visited the "Sage Hen" a nightspot run by our old friend, Jasper. His chief attraction was "Curves" Rowland, a wonderful opportunity to watch geometry at work, so Mr. Willis told the Seniors.

Driving through Texas the next day, we passed Peekaboo College (I. C. U.) and stopped to speak to Professor Margie Dixon, head of the History Department. That night we spent at El Paso and the next day we crossed the border into Mexico. Having heard reports of the five fruits grown by Senor Bobby Bomar, we decided to visit his huge mansion. Bobby showed us around his huge fruit farms and gave us all several samples.

Crossing the border again, we drove steadily until we came to Los Angeles. We decided to stop there for a few hours and drop in on our many old friends. First we visited the great commercial artist, Charles Carter, who was at that moment working with the famous "Toni Twins", Mary and Martha Cousar. Leaving them, we stopped a few moments to watch a motion picture being made. Donald Dyer the fine actor from Drummonds Tennessee, was starring in a new release, "Hypnotism and Bees."

We left the next day for San Francisco, arriving there at noon. We were pleasantly surprised to find that Faye Wilson, editor of the San Francisco Post, on hearing word of us, had arranged a parade in our honor. We enjoyed this immensely but we had to leave that afternoon. Our trip took us on through Washington and Oregon into Canada.

We were well into Canada when our bus broke down one sultry evening, but much to our surprise and pleasure who should come along but Billie "Spec" McCullough. He informed us that he was on his way to Alaska to dig for gold. Our bus was finally fixed and we were on our way once more!

Several days later, without further mishap, we arrived in Chicago. That night we decided to attend a radio broadcast. We managed to secure tickets to a concert by the "All Girl Orchestra," of which our old classmates Shirley Beaver and Mary Faye Pollard were members. Louise Pouncey, another of our classmates, was the featured vocalist for the night. We spent the night in the suburbs and left the next morning for New York City.

Two days later we arrived in New York City determined to see everything the huge city offered. We decided to spend several days there so we split up into groups and went our separate ways. Hailing a cab, we were astonished to discover that our driver was our old friend and classmate Lloyd Gray. We directed him to take us to the Empire State Building as our first stop. Upon arriving there it was suggested that we purchase a paper to determine the night's activities. Playing at the Metropolitan Opera was that Southern Belle, Georgia Sartainia, the famous Munford prima donna. Turning to sports, we found that there was to be a professional basketball game in Madison Square Garden to-night. Star and Captain of the Munford Moochers was Ed Maughan, a former star at Munford High. Scheduled to referee the contest was Jimmy Wiley, alumni of Tipton County State Institution--for teachers of course. Becky Glover was in charge of the score keeping and scores' desk. In the Arena, there was to be a wrestling match for the Lady Champion of the World between Joyce "Killer" Fletcher and an unknown opponent.

We were still undecided as to what we would do that night when we finished our tour of the tallest building in the U. S. After eating lunch, we began an inspection of Wall Street. The first office we saw was that of the Gross Moving Pictures Inc. of which Betty Sue was President and owner. Continuing our tour, we passed modeling the latest type were surprised and happy to see Sarah Ashworth modeling the latest type French bathing suits. We saw many other interesting sights before we started back to our prearranged meeting place with the other students.

We spent several crowded and very interesting days in New York and then left on the last leg of our journey home.

We arrived in the Capitol of our great country the next day. The first thing we heard was that Wallace Joyner had just been elected Senator from Tennessee. The news, it seems, had just leaked out through his pretty secretary, Betty Jean Coleman. We visited Betty Jo Bomar, the head of the National Home Economics Department, before we left that afternoon.

On our trip through Virginia, we managed to buy a copy of the Memphis paper. Edna Earle McCollum, noted columnist had written an article on Joe Hanks, the diminutive (?) outfielder of the New York Yankees, formerly a classmate of ours. Also in today's headlines was the announcement that Cleo Smith had just become the first woman to swim the English Channel.

Arriving in Nashville several days later, we were met by Juanita Simmons noted social worker in Nashville who had us a place to stay that night. Mary Frances Morgan, famed woman judge, visited us and told us of Austin Strickland, who was at that moment in the midst of a hot election for Governor of Tennessee.

The next morning, bright and early, we left on Highway 70 for home. We arrived in Memphis at four that afternoon and in Munford soon after. We had been gone exactly six weeks and had traveled 10,000 miles and had enjoyed a wonderful trip.
