PRINCIPAL

Mr. Russel Lindsey became Brighton's principal in 1971. As these pictures show, he takes an active part in all phases of school life. Away from school he relaxes by jogging, enjoying blue-grass music, and spending time with his family.

ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL

Mr. John Scott, assistant principal, is also our highly successful coach of the girls' basketball team.

DEDICATION

It takes a super teacher to inspire superwork. Such is our Mrs. Mary Ann Smith. Always searching for the best in us and for ways to bring out that best — that's Mrs. Smith. Whether at work (below left) or in the shadows while we play, (below right), she makes school a good place to be. Thanks, Mrs. Smith. In appreciation, we dedicate this book to you.

Without our service personnel, who knows what would become of us? What would happen first? Would we freeze to death, die of starvation, or drown in a sea of paper wads and bubble gum wrappers? What if we had to walk to school? (Our bus drivers always ducked when the camera appeared.) These people have given real meaning to the expression "service with a smile."

We, the Senior Class of 1982, deeming ourselves to be of sound mind and body (for who else would so state), do hereby will and bequeath the following:

Bobby Alston's locker to Elliot Morrison. Greg Alston's jumping ability to Barney Somerville in hopes that someday you can slam, too. Pam Anthony's ability to keep her mouth shut during chorus to Gina Sherfield. Use it wisely, Gina. To Margaret Mills, Patrice Anthony's ability to get Tony's jokes. Annette Butler is the recipient of Cheryl Artry's basketball talent.

Billy Whitesides, you receive Bruce Baldwin's woodworking business, while Mark Seelye gets his calculator. James Becker leaves to Jessie McNeal all the best wishes that she will ever need. Norma Blackmon's ability to drive like Richard Petty to Bobby Wilson and Robert Murray with the admonition, "Watch them ditches!" Tim Moses inherits Dale Boyd's ability to stay out of trouble. Tammy Lawrence, you receive Carla Cates ability to get out of study hall and be excused for it. We are sure you will put that to good use.

Teresa (RESA) Copes leaves her talent for having a good time up to under any circumstances to Barbara Smith. Gary Covert's "fire-extinguisher" goes to Alan Erwin. Neal Delashmit leaves to Dave Huffman his ability not to! That is, the ability not to break two legs and one arm, not to get a concussion, not to twist an ankle, not to pull a back muscle, and not to cut hands and knees. Hang on to it, Dave. To Annette Butler is left Althea Dowell's ability not to get caught.

Elliot Morrison and Barney Somerville will have to share Sandra Dyson's ability to pass all subjects without studying for any tests. Tony Eason wills to Charlie Higgins his address book, and to Margaret Mills, his love. Charlie also receives from Scott Evans his ability to meet girls. You should be fixed up now, Charlie. James Fayne, you have fallen heir to Annette Fayne's quietness. Darrell Fayne leaves to Calvin Dunn his job at Wells. Barbara Foust leaves to Kim Blackmon her brains and common sense. (Wonder if Barbara will miss them?)

To Dennis Fayne, Russell Gaines' books. Dean Franklin would like to leave to every senior the ability to find a car as good as his. To Robert Murray, K.C. Glover's speed and agility on the base paths. Cymanthia Goforth (alias Mrs. Billy C. Gray) leaves to Terry Gray the ability to find an excuse to check out every day at 6th hour. To a tough senior of 1983, Tom Graham's right to play a loud horn in band. To Kenneth Fayne, Danny Harvell's position in the National Honor Society.

Horace Dye and Calvin Holland can share Bobby Grandberry's ability to stay awake in Mrs. Smith's class. To whoever needs it most goes Doug Hayes' ability to take 4 credits of English in his last two years. To William Holland, Mary Hill's self-consciousness. To his sister, Sandra Jones, Jeffery Jones weight. To Bobby Wilson, Sharon Kemmerling leaves all her love.

To Elliot Morrison, the bookkeeping pen used by Thomas Kemp. To Gera Dacus, Lori Landrum's ability to drive a car. James Lemon's locker to Clifford Smith. To Allen Lee, Larry Lemons' ability to complete one shop project in a whole year. To Randy Harrell, Amanda Malone leaves the ability to get along with a McCain. (Good luck, Randy. It's tough!)

Kevin McNeal's ability to socialize and communicate with the people of the old and new world to Horace Dye. To anyone who can handle it, Karen Melton bequeaths the piano in jazz band. To Elliot Morrison, Melvin Morrison's quietness. From Kenneth Neal, all his unforgettable dreams to all the seniors of 1983. Andre Nelson's good speaking ability to Calvin Dunn. To Terry Clarke, Denise Noah's half of the Monte Carlo. To Horace Dye, Donald Parker's desk in Mrs. Smith's room. To Barney Somerville, Calvin Dunn and Dave Huffman, Johnetta Payne's ability to be accepted into the National Honor Society.

To James Fayne, John Pugh's ability to roam the halls without getting into trouble. To Drema Patrick, Debbie Raynor's ability to put up with all the upcoming gripes (and fakes) she is about to encounter from the cheerleaders of 1982-83. From Fennis Rushing, his quietness, beauty, smile and intelligence to Debbie Rudd, Wanda Rushing, and Josie Yander, with the wish that they enjoy their Senior year as much as he did. To Daphne Wright, Bethena Short's best seat in Senior English and her English books. ENJOY!

To Terry Gray, Jimmy Stafford's hairy chest. From Cathy Stewart to Gera Dacus, the little white house on Atoka Pond Road. (Don't drive off the bridge.) Paul Stewart's ability to pass Senior English to Joey Calvin. To Elliot Morrison, James Fayne, and Barney Somerville, Carolyn Stone's ability to get over in class. To her cousin and fellow student, Billy Flanagin, Martina Tracy's ability to make decent grades in math. From Dennis Willey to Kim Blackmon, the ability to make good grades in Mrs. Smith's Senior English class.

To Bobby Wilson, "any marginal speed of foot which I may have remaining" from Johnny Wilson. (Every little bit helps.) To Donna Rae Goforth, Jenifer Wright's ability to act like a sweet, innocent girl and stay out of trouble. Fool 'em, Donna. From Judy C. and Lynn C. McCommon to Terry Gray, the ability to do the skunk trot without fail. From Judy Durham and Phyllis Owen, to D.J. "S.S." Wright, her own parking space on Atoka Pond Road. From the first hour office staff, to next year's first hour staff, our ability to go to Marie's Grocery every morning without getting caught. To Mr. Lindsey, William Holland leaves all his troubles.

From Eric Barron, "I do hereby proclaim my Personal Savior, Jesus Christ, and will His love to anyone in this school who will accept the challenge of believing."

Finally, we, the Seniors of 1982, will to the Seniors of 1983 the ability to have a prom and to have as many great times here at BHS as we have had.

CHEERLEADERS

No. 1 everywhere they went!!

Please pardon Jenifer's "bighead." It was the records piled up by our teams that gave it to her.

CHEERLEADERS

With championship teams to root for, the cheerleaders not only cheered our teams to victory, but also won top honors for themselves wherever they went. They won our congratulations and appreciation. Thanks also is due their sponsors, Mrs. Wicker and Mrs. Blackmon.

BASEBALL

Although we sometimes tease the baseball players for being so proud of their jackets, we really don't blame them for it. You see, their jackets proclaim them the champions they really are. When a school sends a team all the way to the state tournament, that team is helping to put the whole town on the map. We are proud of you, boys.
